ABOUT

Beaverdam Lake

The lake has been in existence since 1990. The flooded areas consisted of open fields, woods, wetlands and about 3 miles of streams. The average depth of the lake is 12 feet & the maximum depth is 25 feet.

The southern portion of the lake is restricted to protect the water treatment plant. Buoys across the lake mark the boundary of the restricted area, please do not enter that area.

There are 11 fish attractors, tree tops chained to stumps, located throughout the lake. The sites are marked & have tie up rings for your convenience.
