Looking to the future

Goals set by Sheriff Gentry and the leaders of the Gloucester Sheriff's office are:

Obtain Accreditation from the Virginia Professional Law Enforcement Standards Program.

Provide in-service training to officers within the agency so that officers will not have to travel to the regional academy for in-service

Continue to maintain and improve accounting procedures.

Develop plans for new 911 dispatch center to be built adjacent to current Sheriff's Office Building.

Developing and implementing a Crisis Intervention Team model for dealing with the mentally ill.

Continue to refine and improve evidence control function to include added secur-rity for valuable/sensitive evidence.

Challenges to the agency

Recent shortfalls in governmental income continue to present significant challenges to the criminal justice community. Sheriff Gentry and his command staff are committed to efficient and responsible fiscal policy. The agency will explore different methods to reduce expenditures while maintaining critical services to the community.

Additional demands will be placed on criminal justice due to reductions in other areas of government spending. Some of these include services to the mentally challenged, more individuals being incarcerated at the local level as the state cuts back funding to the Department of Corrections.

Other fiscal demands will be rising fuel costs, rising costs for other supplies and equipment.
